

Contact Us to Learn More

Tick-borne Conditions United
P.O. Box 1126
Pittsboro, NC 27312

#TBC United

info@TBCUnited.org

www.TBCUnited.org

TBC United provides the latest education about tick-borne conditions to healthcare professionals, organizations, and the general public through online resources, webcasts, white papers, and in-person educational programs.

Healthcare Professionals – contact us about CEU/CME credits.

Upcoming Programs:

- Alpha-gal Syndrome: An Overview for Healthcare Providers
- Prevention for People, Pets, & Property
- Tick-borne Conditions of YOUR State

EDUCATION

AWARENESS

ADVOCACY

Co-Founders

Beth Carrison, INHC
Beth@TBCUnited.org
(978) 877-8560

Jennifer Platt, DrPH
Jennifer@TBCUnited.org
(919) 218-8999

501(c)(3) nonprofit

TAX ID: 83-4201096

Tick-borne Conditions United

Educating healthcare professionals, organizations, and the general public about how to prevent tick-borne conditions, identify symptoms, and live a healthy life with the condition.

www.TBCUnited.org

Tick-borne Conditions United

Tick populations and the conditions they transmit are expanding in scope and frequency throughout the world.

Every year, hundreds of thousands of people are bitten by ticks, causing sickness, as well as short- and long-term illnesses that can have a damaging effect on their lives. The number of reported cases of Lyme disease alone has tripled in the United States since the late 1990s. Other lesser-known conditions such as ehrlichiosis, anaplasmosis, and Alpha-gal Syndrome do not receive the attention they need due to widespread lack of understanding and awareness.

“I was diagnosed with Alpha-gal syndrome about six months ago. I thought I was doing fine – I knew I couldn’t eat meat and had been very careful to follow all of my doctor’s instructions. But I own a grill and recently I’ve had trouble cooking steaks and hamburgers. Every time I cook, I start to feel nauseated and have trouble breathing. I break out in a rash. I just can’t do it anymore. I’m going to be forced to sell my business.”

– Annie Mae King

We teach healthcare professionals about the latest research on tick-borne conditions.

We teach patients and their families how to work with their healthcare providers and to advocate for themselves.

We work with local, state, and federal policymakers to enact strong research-based legislation and funding to support all patients.

Enjoy the outdoors, but know your risk factors for tick-borne conditions. Let us help educate you.

#TBC United

Please contact us to learn more about tailored educational programs and resources to meet the needs of your organization.

www.TBCUnited.com